DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

2. Claims 18-19 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claims 18-19 provides for the use of an adhesive composition, but, since the claim does not set forth any steps involved in the method/process, it is unclear what method/process applicant is intending to encompass. A claim is indefinite where it merely recites a use without any active, positive steps delimiting how this use is actually practiced.

Claims 18-19 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 because the claimed recitation of a use, without setting forth any steps involved in the process, results in an improper definition of a process, i.e., results in a claim which is not a proper process claim under 35 U.S.C. 101. See for example Ex parte Dunki, 153 USPQ 678 (Bd.App. 1967) and Clinical Products, Ltd. v. Brenner, 255 F. Supp. 131, 149 USPQ 475 (D.D.C. 1966).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
 2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
 3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
 4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.
4. Claims 11-24 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Wang (US 6,428,900 B1).

The invention of claims 11-24 relates to an adhesive composition containing

(a) an elastomeric block copolymer having a diblock fraction of more than 40%;

(b) a sulfonated copolyester;

(c) if desired, further auxiliary additives.

Wang (abstract; col. 1, line 5-22; col. 3, line 36 to col. 4, line 17) disclose a water-sensitive hot melt adhesive composition based on about 10% to about 90% by weight of one or more sulfonated polyester copolymer(s), and a broad range composition of plasticizer(s), tackifier(s), and stabilizer(s). Regarding claims 22-23, Wang (col. 1, line 23-46) disclose various application that meet the features of claims 22-23. Regarding claim 24, Wang (col. 6, line 66 to col. 7, line 6) clearly disclose the use of multifunctional monomers for preparing the tough sulfonated polyesters. Therefore, the examiner has a reasonable basis that the claimed "branched" feature is inherently possessed in Wang.

The difference between Wang and claims 11-24 is that Wang disclose adhesive compositions do not contain an elastomeric block copolymer.

However, Wang (col. 1, line 50) disclose other suitable polymers such as styrene-isoprene-styrene block copolymer for hot melt adhesive applications. In view of substantially identical utilities (or functions) between the styrene-isoprene-styrene block copolymer and the disclosed sulfonated polyester copolymers as taught in Wang, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in art incorporate the styrene-isoprene-styrene block copolymer teachings or partially replace the sulfonated polyester component of adhesive composition of Wang with styrene-isoprene-styrene block copolymer to obtain the invention of claims 11-24.

In view of the broad range of composition of components (a) and (b) of claim 12, the rejection of claims 12, 13 by Wang is adequate and proper.
